I learned today that the USPTO has proposed a $100 fee for filing a LOP (letter of protest). This is one of the only tools I, as a seller, have to let the USPTO know to NOT approve frivolous trademarks (something that I as a print on demand seller deal with EVERY day).

Please do not do this. This would create an undue financial burden for me to guard against frivolous trademarks interfering with my line of business.

Sincerely,
John Turner
